

AMERICAN CHAPTER

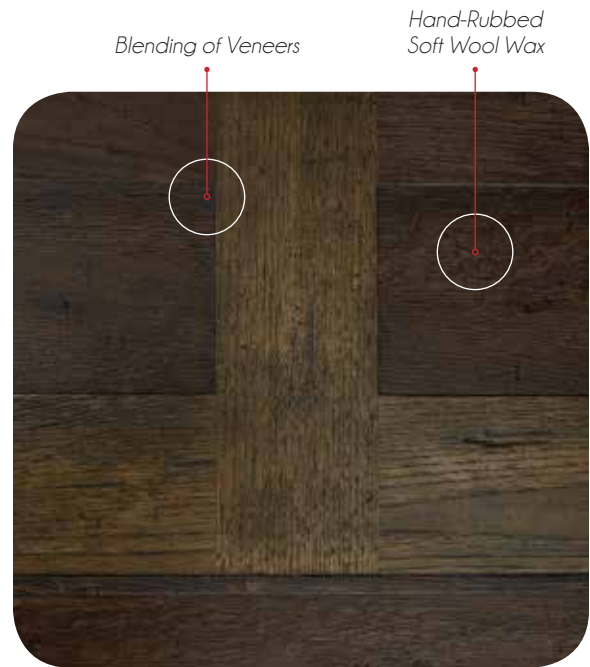

Inspired by the historical charm, the casually elegant lifestyle, and the up and coming energy found in and around Lexington, Kentucky, American Chapter is a study of the architectural elements found in the barns, farmhouses, distilleries, and stables that dot the rolling bluegrass hills. Furniture pieces are steeped in authentic detail, rich patina and subtle elegance. At its heart, American Chapter is a casual, “new traditional” collection finished in a bourbon-toned wood stain. The collection’s broad spectrum of scale and function serves anyone who loves a relaxed, timelessly elegant lifestyle.

ARTISTIC, REFLECTIVE, TIMELESS

2912 | MAKERS FINISH

A bourbon toned wood stain with gentle physical and chemical aging for a relaxed, casual vibe. The finish was inspired by a stave of French Oak that had been soaking in a barrel of Maker's Mark for 6 months. Finished with a hand-rubbed, soft wool wax for a rich satin feel.

2936 | RYE FINISH

A two-tone stain formed from a process of application and hand highlighting. The foundation color has a dark licorice base which rubs through to Makers. It's a perfect accent complement to the core finish.

2940 | TWO-TONE FINISH

An artful finish that mimics the serendipitous blend of woods found in country antiques. Oak and pecan veneers are stained in different tones and hand-rubbed to bring out the grain of the woods.

MALT FABRIC

Malt is a performance fabric that stands up to everyday use. This fabric is durable, stain resistant, soap and bleach cleanable, and machine washable.

"DUN" LEATHER

A neutral, taupe/gray top grain leather with distinctive graining. This leather is an all-natural product that may have slight variation in texture and color based on the nature of the hide.

VELVET PANELS

A rich tactile application that recalls everything from the velveteen details of formal riding gear to the soft muzzle of a thoroughbred horse, often combined with hand applied nailheads for a touch of luxury.

IT'S ALL IN THE DETAILS. With furniture pieces steeped in authentic detail, rich patina, and subtle elegance, American Chapter is a casual, new traditional collection with a broad spectrum of scale and function for anyone who loves a relaxed, timelessly elegant lifestyle. From custom designed hardware, gleaming panels of mercury glass, architectural carving, and thoughtfully incorporated details to accommodate today's technology, the collection brings together past and present with an easy grace just right for today's living.

Oval hardware spotlighted by a sunburst patterned backplate in antique brass finish.

Round hardware finished in antique brass held by a sunburst backplate.

Custom stirrup hardware finished in antique brass.

Concentric circles add detail to the knob hardware finished in antique brass.

Heavy leather stitching on the Tryon Swivel Chair gives a textural, handcrafted feel.

The drop-front drawer in the Loretto Barrel Chest is perfect for a media player.

High/Low veneering mimics the planked effect used in barrel cooper workshops.

Old brick walls which surround Kentucky horse farms and pastures inspired the stair-step post design and dentil molding.

Conservatory Bed metal detail accentuates the mixed veneer inlay.

Antiqued mirror fronts framed by wood mullions on the Mercury Glass Buffet.

Flip top partition on the Live Edge Activity Table adjusts for proper tablet viewing.

Cord management and surge protector with outlets in center tray of Activity Table.

Fold down keyboard tray and inset leather top on Colonel's Executive Desk.

Both the Colonel's Executive Desk and the Credenza have a lockable drawer.

The Colonel's Credenza can be used alone or can be combined with the Colonel's Executive Hutch for extra functionality. The credenza is beautifully detailed with stair-step base, posts, and crown and with a trellis overlay and rustic pecan and flakey oak veneer. Three drawers (one of them lockable) include a pencil drawer and a file drawer; a work surface slides out for extra writing and working space. The credenza is in a rich Makers finish.
