

ARCH. SALVAGE

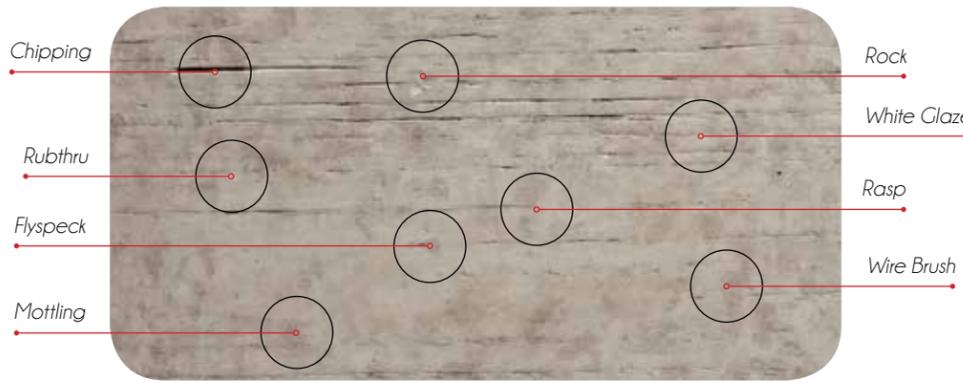

Arch. Salvage is a 50-piece collection containing designs for the Bedroom, Dining, and Living categories. Each item is crafted after months spent researching architectural details from old European structures. The concept was born to address the trend of old elements being repurposed by artisan craftsman into new buildings and furniture. Moldings and posts were derived by doorframes and mantles. Cornice and capital motifs take inspiration directly from decades old structures. Even the hardware is a nod to vintage touchpoints. The excitement of Architectural Salvage lies not only in its broad range of details, but also in its unique blend of highly functional statement pieces. We feel that it's the perfect way to address what's become a major trend in today's decorating landscape.

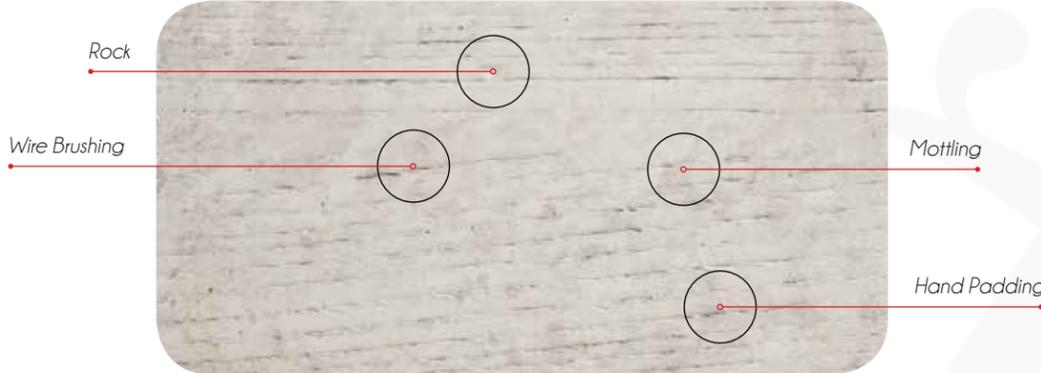

2802 | PARCH FINISH

A dry, close to the wood, open grained casual finish. Sand or straw in color tone, this finish lays the foundation for the collection with the looks of wood bleached by the sun and worn with age. Elm veneer, with its tight grain and neutral color tone, is the perfect species to select when trying to achieve this look.

2823 | MIST FINISH

A mineral colored paint finish that accents the wood tone with neutral sensibility. Open grained and delicately aged, this color addresses the new neutral, Gray, that's found throughout the pages of trendsetting shelter magazines.

2817 | CIRRUS FINISH

A stripped down, salty paint finish layered with physical and chemical aging. This finish replicates the weathered plaster tones found in many decades old mansions and cathedrals. It brings a subtle brightness to the overall palette.

2839 | CIRRUS/MIST TWO-TONE FINISH

Two-tone finish combining 2817 Cirrus and 2823 Mist.

IT'S ALL IN THE DETAILS. It's an artfully placed row of hammered nailheads or the sparkle of a faceted glass drawer pull. It's a footboard with cedar-lined storage for bed linens or the carved corbels on a dresser, inspired by the embellishments of a neoclassical marble mantelpiece. The Arch. Salvage Collection from ART. marries the timeless beauty of traditional European architectural detailing with thoughtful functionality for today's living.
